

Pack First Aid Kits for England

ONE HUNDRED FIRST AID AND UTILITY KITS, MADE by members of four Syracuse home bureau units, were packed yesterday at the American Red Cross production headquarters, 525 S. Warren st., by Mrs. C. C. Bradley, left, Miss Cornelia Moses, right foreground, and Mrs. J. K. Ross and Mrs. J. J. Barrett, rear. The kits, of blue canvas with white trim, were shipped to Washington, D. C., headquarters of the American Red Cross and in turn will be sent to England to be used by women in subways and air raid shelters.

Mrs. Joseph Barrett, left, assisted by Junior Red Cross members, prepares ditty bags for servicemen during World War II. They contained paperbacks, handkerchiefs, recording tapes, sewing kits and other useful items.
